The Election.

We have delayed the publication of our paper until late on Thursday, for the purpose of giving as late returns as possible of the result in this County and District. The Republicans have elected their whole County ticket but not by as large a majority as usual. The last report of the contest for Congressmen, re-elected L. D. Campbell, by only 19 majority. These are the figures:

Pieble, Campbell, 879 majority.
Montgomery, 879 majority.
Butler, Vailandingham, 838 majority.

Two years ago Campbell was elected by 2700 majority, and we look upon the result, although beaten, as a triumph for the Democracy and a rebuke to the low trucking course of Mr. Vailandingham's opponent. Upon this and matters in general we will speak of more at length in our next.

The Democrats have gained, as far as heard from, five Congressmen in the State, with strong prospects of two or three more. What majority the Republicans will have in Ohio, is yet uncertain, but it will fall far short of their expectations.

The Congressional Districts.

The Democracy have undoubtedly elected Congressmen in the following Districts in Ohio:

First District—George H. Pendleton;
Second District—Wm. S. Groesbeck;
Sixth District—J. R. Cockerill;
Twelfth District—S. S. Cox;
Tenth District—Joseph Miller.

These are all gains. In addition, it is thought in the Fifth, Ninth, and Tenth, Governor Meili in the Eleventh, Lawrence in the Seventeenth and General Burns in the Fifteenth are chosen.

Pennsylvania and Indiana.

The news from these States are of the most cheering character to the Democracy. The indications are that they have both gone Democratic, by majorities from 5000 to 15000. For the returns we refer the reader to another column of our paper. We have no time to comment on the results this week.

Hold the Infamous Wretch up to Public Gaze.

Immediately upon the arrival of the cars this morning, announcing the probable election of the drunken Campbell, slips of the following description were distributed over our town:

You are respectfully invited to attend the funeral of C. Vailandingham this afternoon at Goswerryhill.

The beastly brutal and degraded wretch who would attempt to enhance his joy over a defeated opponent by means as vile as these, and who in this manner attempts to exhibit his villainy, and polluted taste to the public gaze, would steal the clothes from his mother's grave, rob his country of her right, and hold himself out as a willing tool, ready at any time for the commission of any crime that pollution, degradation and infamy might suggest. We are indeed sorry to learn that villain as degraded as these are in our midst, but at the same time are pleased to learn that they are not of our party.

Some individual over the signature of "Veritas" in the last Register, attempts to be very severe upon us, because we objected to the Rev. Van Cleave's prayer at the Concord Black Republican meeting, a short time ago. We have not time this week to answer the ravings of this illiterate blockhead, but may in our next strip him of his hide and hang it upon the outer walls, as a warning to all such sally persons, who attempt to justify, by such fallacious arguments, those Ministers of the Gospel, who have turned their pulpits into political rostrums and themselves into frothing demagogues.

Fremont's Position.—He don't want to offend the Catholics, because he wants their votes.

He don't want to offend the Know-Nothing, because he wants their votes.

"You see," said he, "how I am situated."

Jonathan Outley, of East Killbuck, Connecticut, has seven sons and five sons-in-law, ten of these twelve go for Buchanan.

OUR COUNTY FAIR.

Our County fair, which came off last week, was, taking all things into consideration, by far the most attractive and largest ever held in this county. The exhibitions in several departments were very large and in point of quality, in our opinion, would be hard to beat. The cattle show was much larger than at any previous year, and superior specimens we think will be hard to find in any of our surrounding counties. The same may be said of the horse exhibition—it was very large, and in point of quality it is seldom excelled, not only in one particular point, but for general purposes. The improved condition of the horses at this exhibition, shows with much force the interest that our people are beginning to manifest in the selection and rearing of this kind of stock.

The department of fruits and vegetables was well filled. We saw some specimens that filled our ideas of "the good things of this earth." We are glad to notice that the cultivation of fruits are receiving more attention from the people of this county. The ladies department, as usual, was well represented, rich, rare, and tasty. We have not space to give a particularly description of the various articles exhibited, but the wax shell and needle-work, was a most beautiful and fine display.

The exhibition of Agricultural implements was rather small, but those that were exhibited, it is said by some who know, were among the best now manufactured. There is another thing our farmers seem to have neglected or overlooked, the last two years, that of exhibiting samples of various grains, and why it is we cannot conceive. This is a great grain growing county, and many of the best kinds of grain and grass seeds are produced here, and the samples on an occasion of this kind should be numerous. We hope that we may see at our next Annual Fair, abundant samples of every kind of grain and grass seeds, it will not only add interest to the matter, but will be attended in the end with the most happy, practical results and general good. The equestrian performance was decidedly a first effort. Some twelve or fourteen ladies entered the list, as competitors for the prizes, and the display to the audience was truly gratifying, and to the Ladies highly creditable. Of the awarding of the first prizes, we have nothing to say, we presume the Committee will settle the difficulties involved in that matter satisfactorily to all those interested. We think this was the best attended and most satisfactory Fair ever held in this county. The Agricultural Board saved no pains to have every thing right, and the result, we think, must have satisfied their most sanguine anticipations, for which, they deserve the credit of the public.

Further Proof of Fremont's Catholic Professions.

It is somewhat amusing to observe the attempts of the Republican and Know Nothing organs, to prove that Fremont never was a Catholic.

The necessity for this course on their part arose in consequence of the midnight oaths administered by these fusion leaders, a year ago, when Know Nothingism was their hobby. Very many honest men were inveigled into their dens, and now after having taken the prescribed oath, their spirit should be lived up to. This, however, would take votes from Fremont, should it become generally known that he was a Catholic. Hence the anxiety to prove that he is not, and never was, one.

But the proofs have multiplied so fast, that their efforts are vain. On this subject we find published a letter from Hon. Nathan Sargent of Pennsylvania, well known as the celebrated whig writer for many years, over the signature of "Oliver Oldschool," Mr. S. writes to a friend as follows:

WASHINGTON, August 24, 1855.

A. B. ELY, Esq.—Dear Sir: I have your note of the 28th July, inquiring where Col. William Russell of Missouri, resides or may be addressed, and asking me what he has said, or will say, in reference to Col. Fremont's religious opinions?

Col. Russell's residence is at Harrisonville, Cass Co., Mo.; but I am informed that he is at present in Baltimore on a visit.

Col. Russell is a man who will say what he has said; and he has said to me that Col. Fremont was a Catholic when he was in California. I spent an evening with Col. R. at Brown's Hotel two or three weeks ago, and knowing that he had been much with Col. F. in California, and on every intimate terms with him, I asked him if he knew anything of Col. Fremont's religious views at that time? He replied that he did; that he was with him a great deal, and in fact might say that he had slept under the same blanket with him for eight months. I then asked him what Col. F. was? He replied, a Catholic. I asked him if he was sure of it? "Perfectly," he said; and then added, "Col. Fremont was a very good man; a Catholic; every body knows that; and he was a very good man."

Further conversation occurred between us on the subject, but this is the sum and substance of it. I asked him if I might refer to this conversation and use his name? He replied, "Certainly; you are at liberty to do so." He again said, "COL. FREMONT WILL NOT DENY THAT HE WAS A CATHOLIC."

Col. Russell, you may not be aware, was Col. Fremont's principal witness on his trial before the Court Martial. Should Col. Fremont deny over his own signature that he was a Catholic when in California, I presume Col. Russell will then speak for himself.

Col. R. is an old, ardent, personal friend of Henry Clay, with whose family his own is connected; his daughter having married Mr. Clay's grandson.

I am, very truly, your obedient servant,

N. SARGENT.

A LOFTY FLAG.—On Saturday last some young men in Meach Creek, Penn., stretched a wire from mountain to mountain, at an elevation of four hundred feet above town, from which was suspended a very large and handsome flag, bearing the name of "Buchanan and Breckinridge."

PROGRESSIVE.—A phrenologist proposes to examine the head of navigation—when he finds the head. He is to start in pursuit of it early next month, in Colonel Fremont's company, expecting to find his object at the upper extremity of Salt River.

In a speech at Syracuse Martin Grover said the Republican party was "like death and the grave; it took in everything that came along," and he might have added, "gave them up to corruption."

The Great Democratic Victory in Connecticut.

The Democratic victory in Connecticut is signal and glorious. They have made a gain of fourteen towns out of the one hundred and fourteen that voted. This large gain, together with the proportionate increase upon the popular vote, renders it certain that Connecticut is completely redeemed from Black-Republican thralldom. The Democracy of Connecticut have done most gloriously, and deserve the thanks of their brethren all over the Union for their triumph. They have completely turned the tide of Black-Republicanism in New England.

From Michigan.

At the election held on the 30th of September, in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan, for State Senator and two Representatives, the Democrats carried their ticket by ONE THOUSAND majority. Last year this district when Fusion. This election settles the question against Fremont in Michigan. Set down the six electoral votes of Michigan for Buchanan!

And Little Delaware!

Make room for her—she is not very large but she is true to the Constitution and the Union, and all her three counties give a Democratic majority. She gave Pierce, in 1852, a majority of twenty-five; but NOW she gives a Democratic majority of EIGHTEEN HUNDRED!

Passes, Union and Prosperity.

Can any good citizen be blind as not to recognize that the peace and quiet of this country—the permanence of the Union—the preservation of the good will and fraternal feeling of the people of the several States depend on the triumph of the Democracy. Let the other party succeed and the next two years of our Republic will involve the greatest crisis. The friends of strife, contention and civil war will be watered through the land. The North and South will be arrayed in deadly and irreconcilable hate. The Union, if it survive the shock, will be one of form—the spirit, reality and brotherhood, which are its chief benefits and objects, will have departed forever.

How will New York Vote?

Notwithstanding the hoisting of the Fremont journals, there is the strongest reason to believe that the United Democracy will be able to carry New York. A recapitulation of the vote in New York for the last eight years will show our readers upon what a substantial basis this hope is founded.

In 1848 the United Democratic vote was larger by 16,225 than the Whig vote.

In 1850 the average Democratic majority was 3,978.

In 1851 the average Democratic majority was 2,538.

In 1852 the Democracy was united, and gave Pierce a majority of 21,201.

In 1853, the Democrats being united on the Judicial election, gave a majority of 23,209; on the State ticket the aggregate Democratic vote was a majority of 25,390.

In 1854, when the Whigs and Know Nothings each had a ticket, and the Democrats two tickets, the aggregate Democratic vote was 33,541 larger than the Whigs, and 68,083 larger than the Know Nothings.

In 1855 the Democrats united on the Appeal Judge, (S. Iden) and gave him a majority of 17,279 over the Republicans, and 9,103 over the Know Nothings.

Here, says the Albany Argus, is a succession of Democratic votes indicating a uniting result—that even when dissented, warring against each other, the Democratic sections largely outnumbered their opponents, and that any candidate they united upon was certainly elected.

The majorities of the united party have been, in the most adverse moments, and to the last, some 20,000 over the Whig and Republican party in both phases, and this upon a diminished vote, after a vexatious and disheartening civil war, protracted, with occasional truces, through seven years.

The last contest (1855) in the State, showed that the aggregate vote of all parties was 85,000 less than that of 1852, leaving it evident that, allowing for the increase of the numbers of electors, more than 100,000 citizens had refused to take part in the election. The non-voters were not Republicans, for that party displayed its utmost strength, nor Know Nothings, for that organization showed its most perfect discipline and vigor.

Three-fourths of those were Democrats, who, discouraged by the character of the civil war into which the contest had degenerated, withheld all participation in it, and awaited the re-union of the party by one resuming a connection with it.

Fremontism in Canada—British Hopes of a Dissolution of Our Union.

We have had occasion to allude several times to the undisciplined soldiery manifested in the organs of armistice and "merrily in the Old World in behalf of the re-election of Fremont, and to give extracts from their journals showing that they regard the Black Republican organization as hostile to the maintenance of the federal Union. The same is noticeable and the same view of the Presidential contest prevails among Queen Victoria's subjects in Canada. A gentleman of intelligence and respectability, who resides in Iowa, recently had occasion to pass through Upper Canada, when and where he found ample opportunity to learn the wishes and sentiments which prevail in that portion of the British dominions. He has been kind enough to furnish us with the following memorandum, which are worthy of careful perusal by all who look with like honor upon monarchy and disunionism.—Washington Union.

In passing through Upper Canada last week I had occasion to stop over one day at the City Hotel in London. I was not there long until I got into conversation with several gentlemen of that place on the subject of our election in the United States. I was much surprised when I learned that nearly all of them were quite enthusiastic for the election of Fremont.

I remarked to them my surprise at their deep interest in our Presidential election. In answer they stated that the result of our election this fall was of vital importance to them; and that they were not without their influence in the States, also. "Ah!" said I, "I am reminded in the States that British gold is circulating pretty freely in the Fremont cause."

"Yes," said they, "British gold and British men, too, will have more influence in your coming election than you are aware of, sir." "But," said I, "the Buchanan men say it Fremont is elected, and undertakes to carry out the doctrine laid down in his platform, it will work a dissolution of the Union."

"Goodness!" cried several at the same time "that's what we want; we have always said your mushroom republic never could stand; you never can do anything as a nation until you adopt a limited monarchy like ours; you of the North must cut yourselves off from those cursed slave States of the South and be annexed to Canada. Already the people of the New England States are ripe for it. They are wealthy, and want titles of nobility, and they will have them. Ah! sir," said they, "your Democracy is a perfect failure."

"I said," "that you are aware of, sir." "Oh," said they, "you are right. One man, however, who told me he was born in Lower Canada, said he did wish the people in the States could elect Buchanan, for he wanted to see our republic succeed; but he feared there were too many influences brought to bear against him. Said he, 'Sir, you have no idea of the influences that are at work in your country to secure the election of Fremont.' The people here look upon his election as certain to dissolve the Union, hence they are so enthusiastic for him success."

"Goodness!" cried several at the same time "that's what we want; we have always said your mushroom republic never could stand; you never can do anything as a nation until you adopt
